Strategic alliance between Aquila Capital's asset management subsidiary and Commerzbank

Aquila Capital Investmentgesellschaft (ACI), the asset management subsidiary of Aquila Capital Holding GmbH of which we have 40% ownership, has entered a strategic partnership with Commerzbank.

ACI will be able to leverage Commerzbank's global network to expand its asset under management and capture new growth opportunities through collaboration. In return, Commerzbank will benefit from ACI's expertise in the sustainable investment, providing its clients with a wealth of sustainable investment opportunities under its mission to promote the energy transition.

We welcome this alliance and will continue to strengthen our relationship with Aquila Group in the areas of renewable energy and sustainable investment.
